

Crocodile and Stick

Hold the crocodile firmly in one hand and stroke the spines of his back with the stick. Gently, and you will hear him snoozing on the banks of the swamps.

Slightly louder and faster and you will hear him take to the water, weaving his way through the weed and muddy water, louder now as he chases his prey, but don't get too carried away.... Remember! "Never smile at a crocodile, as you will surely be his dinner."

This hand-carved crocodile is made in Thailand.
