

Gecko Clack

The gecko clack is carved and hand painted to resemble this curious creature. Geckos love the sub tropics where they can hide safely in the undergrowth, only coming out at night to feed and serenade their partners.

They have a loud distinctive call - Tokay tokay and a complex repertoire of unusual sounds. By shaking the wooden slats it mimics the sound of the gecko's spine clacking together.